Hospital Marketing Is Evolving. Are You?

EVR answers the call of a hospital marketplace that demands an agency to be truly full service and fully accountable.

It's important to know the hospital industry, and we do. We are a constant in this ever-changing marketplace, able to work with clients to adapt to change and deliver successful results. We're an integrated marketing agency in Manchester, NH with a particular flair for hospital marketing.

What does it mean to be full service in today's healthcare climate?

We partner with clients from initial concept to final measurement. We create and implement comprehensive campaigns and provide clients with the skill sets and bandwidth they need. We understand what makes hospital brands admired and coveted in the healthcare market and have a deep roster of strategists and experts in planning, creative, digital and content to make that happen.

Our execution is thorough. We don't just create campaigns that are clever, powerful and digitally sophisticated; we fully understand the channels to deliver the message and have the industry savvy and know-how to create a vibrant and effective market presence.

Hospital brands must deliver an experience that transcends typical consumer relationships. They balance the perception of compassion and technology while assuring a sense of competence that adheres to a carefully crafted tone in both language and visuals. As brands mature and evolve, a dedicated focus on triggers and tonality will protect brand legacy while positioning them for success in today's changing marketplace.

Good hospital marketing starts with an expert agency that knows how to help you create and share your message. We make sure you are heard.
